

BUCKEYE BRETHERN INSTITUTE

OVERVIEW AND COST SUMMARY

Buckeye Brethren Institute will become an Academy Certified Training System that provides a pathway for education that leads to the fulfillment of the ordination requirements within the Church of the Brethren as set forth in the 2014 Ministerial Leadership paper. BBI is designed to be a three year program that consists of 12 classes, as well as other training activities to accomplish those educational requirements to prepare individuals for a life of set-apart ministry. BBI was developed and intended for those students whose life circumstances prevent them from participating in seminary or other traditional ministry training sessions.

FINANCIAL PLAN

Important costs that each student will be expected to pay:

- $ 50 - Application fee which must accompany the completed application form
- $ 75 - Per course plus Textbooks and materials
- $ 25 - Late registration per course (where applicable)
- $ 50 - Practice Ministry Day fee (3 required/1 per year)
- $ 50 - Graduation fee
- $ 25 - Fee to audit a course for CEUs

Travel to and from classes (for those who travel over 150 miles roundtrip please check with Ministry Education Director about a discount)

This program does cost money; however, when you compare BBI fees with college fees or seminary fees the cost is minimal. Consider this is an investment in YOUR future and the future of the CHURCH. It is possible that a congregation or the district will make financial contributions towards your expenses. This support might be in the form of a scholarship or grant that would help pay a percentage of your total cost.

Each class will consist of 3 meetings which will take place on Saturdays (9:30 - 3:30) over a 6 week period. In most cases, the meetings will take place in Ashland at the District Office or one of the Ashland area churches.

- Participation in 15 or more contact hours per course (3 meetings, 5 hours per meeting)
- Attend each class unless there are extreme extenuating circumstances, as approved by director and instructor
- Must attend all class sessions to receive CREDIT WITH DISTINCTION (in addition to work of exceptional quality)
