

Peacemaker

Pray for Peace

Employ your gifts for the work of God's Kingdom

Act for justice

Create community not confrontation

Embrace and celebrate our differentness for the variety of gifts we can offer

Make a difference for good in the life of a stranger

Acknowledge your imperfections

Kee your focus on Christ

Encourage dialogue

Resist not evil, overcome evil with good

This week pray for:

- Haiti has suffered more than a week of civil unrest and violent protests throughout the country. "Hundreds of thousands of protestors have called for the resignation of Haiti's president Jovenel Moise and have demonstrated against government corruption and economic turmoil." Roadblocks have made travel difficult. People are having trouble getting basic supplies (food, medical care, etc. Eglise des Freres d'Haiti (the Church of the Brethren in Haiti) is struggling to carry out normal activities including humanitarian projects because of the situation.
- Nigeria's general elections, (presidential & national legislative races) were held Feb. 23. It was announced today, that the current president was reelected, however, the second-place candidate has not conceded citing irregularities in the election process. The elections were originally scheduled for Feb. 16, but were postponed hours before polls were to open. Anger and frustration are high among political parties, businesses, and individuals. Voter turnout was lower than expected. Many Nigerians must travel long distances to their polling places and may not have been able to make a second trip. It also appears that some voters were kept away from the poles by intimidation and violence. Many schools and businesses were closed due to security concerns.

Peacemaker

Pray for Peace

Employ your gifts for the work of God's Kingdom

Act for justice

Create community not confrontation

Embrace and celebrate our differentness for the variety of gifts we can offer

Make a difference for good in the life of a stranger

Acknowledge your imperfections

Kee your focus on Christ

Encourage dialogue

Resist not evil, overcome evil with good

This week pray for:

- Haiti has suffered more than a week of civil unrest and violent protests throughout the country. "Hundreds of thousands of protestors have called for the resignation of Haiti's president Jovenel Moise and have demonstrated against government corruption and economic turmoil." Roadblocks have made travel difficult. People are having trouble getting basic supplies (food, medical care, etc. Eglise des Freres d'Haiti (the Church of the Brethren in Haiti) is struggling to carry out normal activities including humanitarian projects because of the situation.
- Nigeria's general elections, (presidential & national legislative races) were held Feb. 23. It was announced today, that the current president was reelected, however, the second-place candidate has not conceded citing irregularities in the election process. The elections were originally scheduled for Feb. 16, but were postponed hours before polls were to open. Anger and frustration are high among political parties, businesses, and individuals. Voter turnout was lower than expected. Many Nigerians must travel long distances to their polling places and may not have been able to make a second trip. It also appears that some voters were kept away from the poles by intimidation and violence. Many schools and businesses were closed due to security concerns.

